NO WELCOME THERE

Why Don't People Arrange to Have a Special Courting Room?Have you ever been in a house where there is a couple courting? It is most trying. You think you will go and sit in the drawing room, and you march off there. As you open the door you hear a noise, as if somebody had suddenly recollected something, and when you get in Emily is over by the window, full of interest in the opposite side of the road, and your friend, John Edward, is at the other end of the room, with his whole soul fixed in thrill by photographs of other people's relatives."Oh," you say, pausing at the door, "I didn't know anybody was here."
"Oh, didn't you?" says Emily coldly,
in a tone which implies that she does not believe you.

You hang about for a bit; then you say

"It's very dark. Why don't you light the gas?"John Edward says: "Oh, I hadn't noticed it," and Emily says that papa does not like the gas lit in the afternoon.You tell them one or two items of news and give them your views and opinions on any current question; but it does not appear to interest them. All they remark on any subject is, "Oh!"
"Is it?" "Did he?" "Yes," and "You don't say so." And after ten minutes of such a style of conversation you edge up to the door and slip out, and are surprised to find that the door immediately closes behind you and shuts itself without you having touched it.Half an hour later you think you will try a cigar on the piazza. The only chair in the place is occupied by Emily, and John Edward, if the language of clothes can be relied on, has evidently been sitting on the floor. They do not speak, but give you a look that says all that can be said in a civilized community, and you back out promptly and shut the door behind you.You are afraid to poke your nose into any room in the house now, so after walking up and down stairs for awhile
you go and sit in your own bedroom.
This becomes uninteresting, however,
after a time, and so you put on your hat and stroll out into the garden. You walk down the path, and as you pass by the summer house you glance in, and there are those two young lovers huddled together in one corner of it, and they see you and are evidently under the idea that for some wicked purpose of your own you are following them about."Why don't they have a special room for this sort of thing and make people
keep to it?" you mutter, and you rush back to the hall, get your umbrella and go out.—Albany Argus.

Webster's Income.

The legal profession of the present day will be surprised to learn that Mr. Webster, the greatest American lawyer of his time, made but $15,000 a year by his practice. But the fees of counsel between 1840 and 1850 were not what they have been since.In 1848 I accompanied a client to Mr.
Webster's office in Boston and asked him to name a retaining fee in an important patent case. He said he thought a couple of hundred dollars would do.
When the case was tried his fee was only $1,000. On another occasion I paid him a retaining fee of $2,000 for the propie-tors of the Goodyear india rubber patent.His fee for arguing the great equity cause of Goodyear versus Day in the circuit court of the United States for the district of New Jersey, by which he established the validity of the Goodyear patent, was $5,000. This was in the spring of 1852, and was the last case he ever argued.His professional income from 1818 to 1828, during which period he was out of congress, averaged, I think, $20,000 a year.—Cor. New York Sun.

The Monogram Must Go.

A momentary fancy prevailing among fashionables shows an entire discarding of the long cherished monogram. No longer do artistically entwined initials
decorate cardcases, portemonnaies, etc.
Form dictates that whether for change purse, memorandum book or satchel, an antique silver coin shall be sunk in the leather on the upper corner of the article.
The crest of the owner is boldly engraved on the bit of metal, while lettered like a motto the name runs around it in quaint characters. Smart folks, scrupulously observant of fashion's vagaries, also confine their selections of note paper to mauve gray and very soft blue, the colors being invariably embossed with silver. Shaded colors are a novelty, but conservative and possibly the best style women still hold to ivory tinted paper and silver lettering as preferable to fancy shades.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

How Some Indians Paint.

All our North American Indians paint,
and the patterns vary with the individual, with the family and with the occasion. From notes made upon Sacs and Foxes painted for the dance we will give but one or two cases. One man's face was painted black, except around the eyes and mouth, which were scarlet.
Upon his forehead was a neat checkered pattern of yellow on the black background. Another's face was divided by a vertical line in two parts—one of which was a bright yellow, the other an equally bright green.—Popular Science Monthly.

Big Prices for Literary Work.

It is announced that Mark Twain has sold the new novel which he has about completed for $12,000, and this includes only the serial rights, and it is also announced that he is to be paid $1,200 apiece for a number of letters from Europe.With the exception of the "Innocents Abroad" and possibly "Roughing It," no one of Mark Twain's novels has brought him the sum of $12,000. The "Gilded Age" yielded him nearly $75,000, but that was because it was dramatized and played by John T. Raymond. He told us only a few weeks before he sailed
for Europe, that leaving the "Innocents Abroad" out of the consideration, his other books in this country have brought him only a fair return, and that his largest profits had been as a publisher and as a maker of plays for the stage.It is also announced that Mr. Howells has sold the rights to a new novel for serial publication for $10,000. That is more money than Mr. Howells has received for any of his stories. Were it not for the serial publication of his stories in the magazines he would not be able to support himself with his pen.
Even the most popular of his recent novels brought him royalties of less than $1,200 for the sale of it in book form.
The largest sum ever paid for serial publication of a novel was $15,000, which the Bonners paid or are to pay Mrs.
Burnett for a new novel, and even her "Little Lord Fauntleroy" in book form
did not bring her any such sum as that.

The Drop Test for Car Wheels.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company has begun to put its cast iron car wheels to a very severe test. For each fifty wheels which have been shipped or are ready to ship, one wheel shall be taken at random by the railroad company's inspector—either at the railroad company's shops or at the wheel manufacturer's, as the case may be—and subjected to the following test: The wheel shall be placed flange downward on an anvil block weighing 1,700 pounds, set on rubble masonry two feet deep and having three supports not more than five inches wide for the wheel to rest upon. It shall be struck centrally on the hub by a weight of 140 pounds, falling from a height of twelve feet.Should the wheel break in two or more pieces after eight blows or less the fifty wheels represented by it will be rejected; if, however, the wheels stand eight blows without breaking in two or more pieces the fifty wheels will be accepted.
The wheel for test to be furnished by the manufacturer in addition to the fifty wheels ordered.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

THE COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION.

Hon. George Russell, one of the World's Fair Commissioners from Nevada, desires to have the State represented at the great exposition. A bill introduced in the Legislature last Winter, at the suggestion of Commissioners Haines and Russell, to appropriate $20,000 for the purpose of making an exhibit was defeated by a few votes. As the Legislature will not meet again until the latter part of January, 1893, and as the exposition opens that year it will be too late to accomplish much should the Legislature decide to make an appropriation for the exhibit. In view of this fact Mr. Russell suggests that the moneyed men of the State contribute to a fund of twenty or thirty thousand to be expended in representing the industries of Nevada at the Fair.

As there are several millionaires who claim to be citizens of Nevada, at least for political purposes, there ought to be no difficulty in raising the required amount. Senator Jones, J. W. Mackay, ex-Senator Fair and Francis G. Newlands will doubtless contribute $5,000 each for so patriotic a purpose, and others whose wealth cannot be estimated will less than six figures ought to subscribe ten or twenty thousand dollars more.

An exhibit of the agricultural and mining products of Nevada, at an exposition which will be attended by millions of people, may attract attention to the resources of the State and result in directing capital in this direction. At any rate it is worth a trial, and as our rich men will not miss the money required from their congested bank accounts, the Commissioners should present the matter to them for consideration. If the millionaires fail to respond, let a popular subscription be opened in every town and county and see what the people will do. A twenty-seven-year-old State, which has produced many millionaires, cannot afford to be unrepresented at an exposition to celebrate the quarterly anniversary of the discovery of America.

BLOWING HOT AND COLD.

The Gazette, in endeavoring to justify its double-dealing course on the Board of Assessors Act, makes another small hole in which it seeks shelter. When it was supposed that the Board of Assessors would assess the rolling stock of the railroads, the valuation of which last year was about a million dollars, it was only the "Democratic press" that "cast aspersion" on the bill. Now, when it discovers the railroad assessment in the county is reduced about one hundred thousand dollars and the valuation of other property is increased over three-quarters of a million dollars, it performs an acrobatic feat, tumbles clear over, and endeavors to make it appear that the Gazette alone of all the papers in the State opposed the bill. The Gazette's attitude reminds one of the hunter who claimed to never miss a mark. While in the woods with a companion he saw an animal's head, but was in doubt as to whether it was a calf or a deer. He fired, missed and the animal proved to be a calf. His companion twitted him upon his poor marksmanship, and he excused himself by saying he aimed to kill the animal if it was a deer and miss it if it was a calf. If the Act creating the Board of Assessors had proved to be beneficial and popular, the Gazette would persist in asserting that only "the Democratic press cast suspicion upon it," but as it is shown to be unjust, despotic, discriminating and unpopular, it changes its tune and virtually concedes that the "Democratic press" was right in denouncing it.

The JOURNAL does not have to apologize for or explain its course on the Assessors bill. It opposed it for reasons which have not been controverted, and which are apparent to the advocates as well as the opponents of the Act.

RAISING RAILROAD ASSESSMENTS.

Complaint is made that the Board of Assessors and Equalization displayed partiality in not making a horizontal raise in the valuation of railroads, proportionate to the raise made on property other than railroads. If the Board had assessed the railroads high enough in the first place, there would be no just cause for such complaint, and while members of the Board are now said to favor such a raise, the authority of the Board to do so is questionable. "The representatives of the people" who voted for the Act creating the Board of Assessors took particular care to guard the interests of the railroads. Section 12 of the Act reads:

"If the owner of a railroad assessed by the State Board be dissatisfied with the assessment made by such Board, such owner may, at the meeting of the Board under the provisions of Section four of this Act, between the fourth Monday in September and the third Monday in October, apply to the Board to have the same corrected in any particular, and the Board may correct, and increase or lower the assessment made by it, so as to equalize the same with the assessment of other property in the State."

This section discriminates between the owners of railroads and the owners of other property. The Board cannot disturb a railroad assessment unless the owner of the road is dissatisfied, but it can raise the owner of any other property "horizontally" and "perpendicularly," whether he is dissatisfied or not. It is such nice discrimination as that that endears such Legislatures as that of last Winter to corporations and bosses, and causes everybody else, not excepting good, pious people, to damn them.

J. H. Manley, postmaster at Augusta, Maine, is in Washington. He says Secretary Blaine will be on duty not later than October 20th. Whether Mr. Blaine is in robust health or a Presidential candidate Mr. Manley would not say.

News of Importance From Home and Abroad.

The Traffic Association.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 17.—A meeting, which was attended by four hundred representative merchants from San Francisco, Los Angeles, Fresno and other parts of the State, was held at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce here to-day. Chairman John B. Stetson, in his address, stated that the object of the meeting was for the formation of a State Traffic Association looking to an increase of competitive modes of rail and steamship transportation from the Eastern States to the Pacific Coast, in order to enlarge the outlet for the products of the Pacific Coast. Chairman Stetson, in his address, said:

"We do not meet here for the purpose of waging warfare or encouraging antagonisms between the shipping public and the railroads, or any transportation lines. We believe the same theory would govern them as would govern ourselves, as business men in the redress of any grievance of our customers."

Thomas J. Haynes was elected Secretary. Resolutions were adopted favoring an organization of the different business interests of San Francisco, with the co-operation of producers and business men of the State under the title of the "Traffic Association of the State of California," with the object of encouraging the building of competitive rail, canal and steamship lines and the regulation of traffic, to the end that the resources of San Francisco and the State might be developed and for such further purposes as the Executive Committee might decide. The Chairman was authorized to select an Executive Committee of eighteen members, from whom the President, Vice President and Treasurer of the new association should be elected, and to give notice of their appointment through the press.

Several speeches were made on the subject of transportation facilities, and a resolution was adopted looking to the appointment of a permanent committee of fifteen to represent the interests of California in the construction of the Nicaragua canal, and urging the United States Government to grant such conservative assistance as will secure the control of the canal and its construction at minimum cost.

The committee was appointed, and after the transaction of some other business the meeting adjourned subject to the call of the Chair.

They Defied Arrest.

Special to the Journal.

CLIFTON FORGE, Va., October 17.—A savage fight occurred between five negroes and the Clifton Forge officials in Mountain Pass this afternoon, resulting in the death of one white man and one negro. The negroes came this morning from the Big Hill mines, and became intoxicated and created a disturbance. They defied arrest in leaving and were followed by the town officers. They were called to halt at the pass where the fight ensued, in which A. P. A. Bowling of the posse was killed and Fred Wilkinson seriously injured. One of the negroes was killed. In a short time 50 men were scouring the mountains and the negroes were captured after a second battle.

They are in jail here, three being wounded. The indications are that a lynching bee will take place to-night, although the Mayor is determined to defend the negroes.

Death of Mrs. Allen G. Thurman.

Special to the Journal.

COLUMBUS, O., October 17.—Mrs. Allen G. Thurman died late this afternoon. Her condition changed for the worse late last night. During most of the past week she has been in an unconscious state. She was the victim of a grippa during the Winter, and never recovered from the attack. Advanced age prevented her from regaining her strength. Mrs. Thurman was born in Chillicothe in 1811, and her maiden name was Mary Dun. While she was a child her father moved to Lexington, Ky. There she married Mr. Tompkins, but he died in a few years. She was married to Judge Thurman in November, 1844, and has been his constant companion and helpmate since during his long professional and political career. Judge Thurman is much enfeebled, and it is feared by friends that he will not long survive his wife.

American Bar Association.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, October 17.—The President received to-day Messrs. Henry Hitchcock, of St. Louis, Prof. Thayer of Harvard law school, and William B. Mornblower of New York, the committee appointed by the American Bar Association at its recent meeting, to bring the attention of the President and Congress to a resolution adopted in reference to having the legal status of the Indians of the reservations settled. President Harrison listened with attention and replied that the matter should receive the consideration which the subject deserved.

Train Wreckers Arrested.

Special to the Journal.

CORPAX, October 17.—Albert and Jeff Roberts, two brothers living near the scene of the wreck, were arrested this evening for being concerned in the train wrecking. They told around town that they knew who the wreckers were, and Ben True, the railroad detective, took them to Auburn this evening. They will be given a chance to tell who the wreckers were. They have been arrested more for talking than for the actual perpetrators of the deed. They told other people about the wreck, but when questioned by the detective knew nothing of the matter. It was claimed that the crowbar was in their possession when last seen.

Inspecting Reservations.

Special to the Journal.

CARSON, Nev., October 17.—Senator Wm. M. Stewart passed through Carson to-day for the purpose of investigating the Indian reservations in various parts of Nevada in company with E. J. Ormabee, ex-Governor of Vermont, Chairman W. A. Morgan of Kansas, Cyrus Reeds, of Iowa and Hawkins Taylor, Jr., Clerk. Every reservation will be thoroughly inspected.

All Will Recover.

Special to the Journal.

BHADFORD, October 17.—The excitement consequent upon the poisoning of the delegates of the W. C. T. U. State Convention yesterday has subsided, and it is safe to say that all the victims will recover. Many rumors were prevalent of intentional poisoning, but investigation to-day showed they were poisoned by food improperly cooked in copper kettles.

Mounting a Heavy Gun.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, October 17.—The President this afternoon visited the navy yard for the purpose of witnessing the hydraulic mounting of one of the twelve-inch guns intended for the Monterey and the largest gun ever made for the United States navy. The President was received with the usual salute and dress parade.

Sailor Killed in a Row.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, October 17.—Assistant Secretary Soley received a telegram to-day from Captain Schley commanding the cruiser Baltimore, at Valparaiso, saying the boatwains mate was killed and six sailors of the Baltimore injured during a street row in Valparaiso yesterday afternoon and that he is investigating the matter.

Searle's Liberality.

LAWRENCE, Mass., October 17.—Edward F. Searle, relict of the late Mrs. Hopkins Searle, is to present to the town of Methuen a statue of George Washington. It will be one of the finest statues of Washington in America.

Railroad Collision

Special to the Journal.

OAKLAND, October 17.—Two freight trains collided at Selbys this afternoon. Seven cars were smashed. No one was injured.

GENERAL BOULANGER.

The Exiled French Soldier Who Recently Committed Suicide.

George Ernest Jean Mari Boulanger was born at Reims, April 29, 1837. He entered the military academy at St. Cyr, and was a second Lieutenant in 1856. He began his military life in Algeria. He rose rapidly. He became a Colonel in 1874 and a General of Division in 1884, and was appointed Minister of War in 1886. His military service was considerable. He was severely wounded in the Italian campaign in 1859, and received the decoration of the Legion of Honor. He was in the expedition to Cochin, China, in 1861. In the Franco-Prussian war he was high in command in the Army of Paris, and was again wounded at Champagne. He visited this country in 1876. Boulanger's ambition was to be a second Napoleon the great, and with that end in view he plotted repeatedly against the Republic. He was expelled in 1888 from the Chamber of Deputies, and soon after fought a duel with Floquet and was wounded in the neck. He was subsequently found guilty of conspiracy and treason and banished from France. He first took up a residence on the Island of Jersey, but of late has resided in Brussels. Boulanger deserted his wife for a Mme. Bonamaine, a very wealthy woman, who supplied him with money for his political schemes and plots. He was evidently attached to her, as he committed suicide on her tomb in Brus els.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials. Address:

Free Water.

Parties in Reno having good wells or a place for one are throwing away money in paying water rates, when by a small investment plenty of pure water is at their command free of cost. One good well will supply water for several families, who by joining in the expense of erecting a windmill, tank, etc., can not only effect a saving in expenses, but be independent of a monopolizing water service. A visit to the Water Company's reservoir and ditch at times will convince the most skeptical that well water is the doctor's enemy, while surface water is the direct agent in bringing business to his office.

Constant pumping insures pure water from all good wells, hence the quality of well water cannot be judged properly from only occasional pumpings. Many unused wells would furnish plenty of pure, clear water if properly pumped.

Can you afford a pumping plant of your own? We will answer for you, Yes.

We are prepared to take contracts this Winter to erect any sized wind-mill plant required, with proper tank and service connection, furnishing them on a monthly installment plan, warranting all work and taking proper care of all mills so erected.

Plans and specifications free upon application. Anti-freezing pumps and protected pipes insure equally as good Winter service as in Summer. For further particulars call on

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "One Hundred Does One Dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's. Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered."

Peculiar in its "good name at home,"—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly. Do not be induced to buy other preparations, but be sure to get the Peculiar Medicine,

A veritable curiosity has been captured in Africa. It is an elephant larger than the late lamented Jumbo, pea green in color, trunkless, and has tusks that branch out something like horns of a deer. It is in possession of a native king, who will not part with it.

On each ballot to be cast, according to the provisions of the new election law in Ohio, are to be these distinguishing devices that have been adopted by the parties: Republican, eagle; Democratic, rooster; Prohibition, rose; People's, plow and hammer.

On the night of the 15th instant, two horses were stolen, one from Dan Bryant's stable and the other, belonging to S. L. Langton, from J. J. Quinn's stable. Bryant's horse and the thief were captured near Colfax yesterday morning. The thief gave the name of William McWilliams and would not surrender until shot by Constables Tieter and Dyer.

The Clydesdale stallion Jumbo, owned by J. C. Carpenter of Council Grove, Kansas, is said to be the largest horse in the United States. He is five years old, weighs about 3,000 pounds, measures eleven feet eight inches in length and is 20 hands high. He is a well proportioned horse and very kind, having been shown at the Kansas State Fair under a saddle containing four ladies.

FRANK M. WINS AGAIN.

Drew a Cart and Trotted Three Heats in 2:17 1-4, 2:19 1-4, 2:20.

Frank M. is truly great. All in all he is the best racehorse in California.

Yesterday the star event of the breeders' card at the Bay District was a special race with Frank M. Wanda, Una Wilkes and Cupid as starters. The conditions provided that as a handicap Wanda and Frank M. should pull carts. Una Wilkes and Cupid went as usual to sulkies. There was some discussion about Frank M's cart. It did not look much like a cart as that term is commonly accepted and it weighed less than fifty pounds. The judges called it a cart, though, and a cart it was.

Even with their heavy handicaps there was nothing in the race but Frank M. and Wanda, and there too did all the fighting. Frank M. opened favorite in the auctions and several hundred pools were run off with Frank M. bringing $30, Una Wilkes $12, Wanda $10 and Cupid $8.

The favorite won the first heat in 2:17 1-4, Wanda second and Una third.

The second heat was a repetition of the first. Time 2:19 1-4.

In the third heat Frank was closely followed all the way by Una. Frank winning easy in 2:20.

The only recent performance to cart that compares with Frank M's is the race by Wanda last Fall against Express, Redwood and Lee, in which she trotted three heats in 2:20 1-4, 2:19 1-4, 2:20 1-4. Wanda trotted two good heats yesterday, about the best she ever trotted, but she met a better horse.—Examiner.

STATE TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

Virginia City Carries Off All the Honors After Most Exciting Contests.—The Tournament Ends With a Brilliant Social Gathering at Armory Hall.

Reno for the past few days has been the scene of Nevada's first State Tennis Tournament, the Virginia City, Carson, Reno and the University clubs being the contestants. Besides the members of the clubs a large number of visitors from Carson and Virginia have been present during the tournament. The grounds have presented a scene of activity and beauty. The neat and attractive suits, with here and there a more brilliant-hued costume, the quick and noiseless movement of the players as they darted here and there made the scene as varied in color and movement as the ever changing kaleidoscope. The large crowd of spectators followed the swift movements of the players, and when by the skillful twist of the wrist a rapid drive would fail to be returned, the admirers of players would show their approval by encouraging applause.

The game is one of great skill, and requires not only active, but graceful movement. The reporter is neither skilled in the art of tennis, nor is he up in the technicalities of the game, but he knows it must be a delightful as well as pleasant pastime where at times a young man may have the "vantage" to "love" thirty or forty.

Virginia City carried off the honors, Mrs. Clarence Barnes being the champion in the ladies' singles. She is a skillful player. Her quick movement and precision of placing the ball and making rapid returns and drives made her a most doughty opponent, and the combined skill of both Carson and Reno was not equal to the occasion.

Clarence Barnes carried off the gentlemen's singles. The championship lay between Watson of Carson, and "Mr. Barnes," of Virginia (not New York). The spectators were on the qui vive, and the partisans of each loyally applauded every successful play. Watson seemed the cooler of the two, but the skill and ease with which Barnes handled the racket was a study for tennis experts. After a stubborn contest Barnes won by a score of 7-5, 6-4, 7-5, and was declared the champion of Nevada.

The playing of Gardner excited much favorable comment. He plays with a reckless abandon that simply paralyzes his opponents. His style is dashing and his plays were among the most brilliantly executed ones during the tournament.

Reno did not seem to be "in it," but Bob Moore fought stubbornly to the finish, and he at least was a foeman worthy of their steel. Dr. Phillips, who is Reno's champion, is suffering from a sprained ankle and was unable to enter the lists.

SCORES OF THE GAMES.

The scores are as follows:
Ladies singles—Miss Huff vs. Miss Pinniger, 6-6, 7-5; Miss Yerington vs. Miss Short, 6-3, 6-2.

Gentlemen's singles—Lester vs. Ardery, 5-7, 6-2, 6-1; Helman vs. Gardner, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4; Watson vs. Thurtell, 6-2, 11-9.

Ladies singles—Miss Yerington vs. Miss Huff, 6-3, 6-2; Mrs. Barnes vs. Mrs. Yerington, 6-0, 6-1; Mrs. Barnes vs. Miss Yerington, 6-3, 6-1.

Gentlemen's singles—Watson vs. Gardner, 6-4, 7-5; Barnes vs. Lester, 6-2, 6-0; Moore vs. Rule, 6-1, 6-1; Watson vs. Moore, 6-1, 6-4.

Barnes and Lester carried off the gentlemen's doubles, winning the first three sets. The gentlemen's singles were won by Barnes against Watson with a score of 7-5, 6-4, 7-5.

The tournament was a great success and has given the popular game an additional impetus. Next year will see many new clubs competing and a more interesting contest, though it would be difficult to have a tournament productive of more social jollity and that will carry with it more pleasant memories than the present one.

THE PASTIME SOIRÉE.

The evening party tendered by the Reno Pastime Tennis Club to their visiting guests was one of the most brilliant social successes ever given in Reno. Armory Hall was reutilized. The decorations were tasteful. On one side of the room rackets, nets and tennis balls were gracefully arranged, beneath which was a wide border of evergreen decorations. On the other side was a large band of black, under it hung in graceful folds drapings of orange. The effect was beautiful in the extreme, fans, bric-a-brac, panels and paintings, arranged with much taste, finished the decorations on that side. A beautiful canopy overhung the music stand. The gallery at the end of the hall seemed to be a bower of beauty, within which were tinted Autumn leaves, emblems of Fall's melancholy days, gracefully twined amid boughs bending under the weight of rosy apples. The pale yellow woodbine and the blushing maple leaf encircled the State Tennis Clubs' colors which were crimson for Virginia, red and blue for Carson and orange and black for Reno. This occupied the center of the rear of the hall. A profusion of Autumn leaves of all hues, wreaths of woodbine, branches of maple and ash, with here and there clusters of red berries arranged with exquisite taste completed the decorations. Over the border of the gallery hung the sharp-pointed and rich green boughs of the graceful cedar. It was a bower of beauty and a scene of enchantment. As the melodious strains of the orchestra were wafted on the air one seemed carried to other climes.

By 8:30 o'clock the merry tennis dancers began to arrive, the jaunty costumes of the day had given way to silks and satins and the black dress coat. Promptly at 9 p. m.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Fredrick & Barlow's Orchestra struck up. The grand march was led by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lewis followed by Robert Moore and Miss Finlayson, Mr. and Mrs. George Hymers, Ben Lee and Miss Bourne, the Virginia and Carson couples and the Reno members of the Riverside Social Club.

The grand march presented as pretty a scene as was ever beheld in a Reno ballroom, the gorgeous and costly costumes of the ladies, varying in their exquisite shades from delicate pink and blue to sombre black, the uniform dark colors worn by the gentlemen, the red, white and blue, black and orange club colors and the red evergreen trimmings in the hall gave a charming effect to the whole.

Among the ladies present were Mesdames C. T. Bender, Frank Lewis, G. H. Taylor, C. H. Stoddard, W. S. Bender, G. Hymers, Wm. Pinniger, R. D. Jackson, C. J. Novacovich, J. Parker, J. M. Neall, B. F. Layton, Mary Emery, Dr. Bergstein, the Misses Short, Torreyson, Loder, Manning Bourne, Crook, Finlaysons, French, Layton, Gibbs, and Mrs. Barnes, Mrs. Yerington, of Virginia, Mrs. D. A. Bender and Miss Cherris Bender, of Carson, and Mrs. Judge Cheney, of Reno.

Though the JOURNAL reporter admired the many elegant costumes, yet he is not sufficiently versed in the technique of a lady's toilet to do justice to them in a detailed description.

Among the gentlemen were Messrs. Bender, Cheney, Rule, Bergstein, Moore, Lee, Kelton, Pinniger, Phillips, Lewis, Hymers, Jackson, Van Harlingen, Stoddard, Neall, Novacovich, of Reno; and Wilkes, Bender, Taylor, Murphy, Gardner, Colburn and Watson, of Carson, and Messrs. Ryan, McDonald, Hellman, Barnes and Wyles, of Virginia City.

The reporter was unable to obtain the names of all present and has probably unintentionally omitted some.

The programmes were quite unique, being in the form of a folding tennis racket, with the dances on one leaf and the engagements on the other. The affair was most thoroughly enjoyable, and the Reno people fairly outdid themselves in the way of entertaining their many merry guests. The following committees were in charge: Patronesses—Mrs. C. T. Bender, Mrs. M. D. Foley, Mrs. R. D. Jackson, Mrs. A. E. Cheney and Mrs. J. M. Neall. Ushers—Messrs. Robt. Moore, Robt. Lewers, H. B. Rule, J. Warner Phelps and E. M. Van Harlingen. An elegant supper was served in the hall and thoroughly enjoyed by all. The gallery was turned into a dining hall, and at the close of the dance a pleasant hour was spent in making way with the delicious viands and in the interchanging of the merry jest.

The affair will be one long to be remembered, and the many pleasant memories of Reno's first State Tennis Tournament will linger long in the minds of the participants.

THE PRIZES.

F. M. L. Peters & Company of San Francisco presented the prize for the gentlemen's singles, it being a very handsome racket and case. A very pretty gold pin in the form of a racket was presented by the Reno Pastime Club to the winner of the ladies' singles. For the gentlemen's doubles two leather cases were given. The prizes were presented to the champions by Judge Cheney at the social, and his remarks were enthusiastically applauded, and the prizes as modestly received by the champions.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

A Justice of New York has just decided that you need not pay for a meal ordered at a restaurant unless you eat it. If that decision stands, restaurant keepers must demand pay in advance from suspicious characters, to protect themselves.

THE CODE OF HARA-KIRI

A WAY OF SATISFYING HONOR AMONG JAPANESE NOBILITY

Men Who Deliberately Commit Suicide or Get Their Friends to Kill Them—A Sample Case—The New Code of Laws Against It, but It is Still Practiced

It is generally understood that hara-kiri, or hara-wo-kiri, is the solemn practice of suicide among Japanese noblemen—a practice most deeply rooted in their ideas of honor and faithfulness. The hara-kiri was first practiced on the battlefield. If the defeated did not wish to fall alive into the hands of the enemy they thrust their swords into their mouths or their breasts or cut their own throats. Later the hara-kiri became an institution of honor. Who ever knew his cause to be lost either executed himself with his sword or allowed his companions to do it for him. It often happened that when a feudal lord had performed his self execution his vassals followed his example to show their loyalty beyond the grave.

HIS MEMORY UNSTAINED

My mother, who was a Japanese of rank, often related to me a case of hara-kiri which took place not so many years ago in her own family. The nobleman, occupying a government office, had killed his bitterest enemy and was sentenced to the hara-kiri. If he had not belonged to the caste of warriors they would either have beheaded him or sentenced him to be nailed to the cross, which would have brought dishonor on his family, besides resulting in pecuniary disadvantages. The hara-kiri, however, attached no dishonor to him or his memory. The condemned man was committed to the surveillance of a nobleman in whose mansion the solemn self execution was to take place. Day and hour were appointed, and the witnesses elected by the government arrived. The condemned man had begged three of his friends to render him the last service and they consented.

Subordinates called on the prisoner to tell him of the arrival of the witnesses. They brought him robes of hemp on a tray. He donned them quickly and hurried to the reception room of the palace where the reception of death was read to him. The prisoner listened to it without moving a feature. Then he retired once more to his chamber to change his dress for the last time. Attired in white robes, he was led by a solemn procession to the room where the self execution was to take place. A large cotton cloth was spread on the mats. Over this a scarlet quilt was laid to prevent the blood from soaking through the mats. It was already dark and a candle burned, giving a faint light, was placed in each corner. Behind two white screens a pall, a wash basin, a censor, a tray and a short sword lay hidden. According to prevailing rules, the persons present stepped into the semidark room and took their places.

Then the duties of the three assistants of the prisoner began. The first brought him the sword on a short legged table, the hit being wrapped in paper. The prisoner received the weapon with reverence, lifting it with both hands to his forehead to express his esteem. Then he laid it back on the table and bowed to all present. He let his upper garments fall down to the belt, and stuffed them firmly under his knees to prevent him from falling backward, which is looked on as a disgrace. Then, while with a firm hand he seized the sword, and with a quick movement cut up his stomach, the second assistant, who stood on his left side, with one fierce blow severed the head from the trunk. After rendering his friend this terrible service he retired behind the screens, drew some white paper from his belt and wiped the weapon. The third assistant then grasped the head by the tuft of hair and presented it to the principal government witness to show that justice had been fully satisfied. This was followed by deep silence. All present retired quietly. On the floor lay the body of the nobleman. Four servants appeared and carried away the body and cleaned the room.

The memory of the nobleman remained unstained. He had remained loyal to his rank in death.

NOT FOR THE SHOGUN.

In 1869 a private secretary to the privy council proposed the abolition of the hara-kiri. Two-thirds of the deputies were against the proposition, and in the speeches held on that occasion they praised the institution as indispensable to preserve the honor of the aristocracy, and as a spur to morality and religion. The man who advanced the proposition was, as was expected, murdered not long afterward.

Of course all Japanese do not share the opinion of those deputies. In the last change of government when the shogun, completely defeated, had no other alternative than to flee to Yeddo, one of his councilors advised him to have recourse to the hara-kiri as the last means of saving his honor and that of his family. The shogun ridiculed the advice and left the room in a rage. The faithful councilor retired to another part of the palace and disembowled himself in proof of his earnestness. The shogun is still living and enjoys a fat income.

So much about the essential characteristics of the hara-kiri. The changes which this old national custom has undergone cause the particulars concerning it to be somewhat contradictory. By the introduction of a new code of laws, the hara-kiri has been abolished and only noblemen, who still believe in the traditional code of honor of their ancestors, may select it as a mode of death.—C. Sadakichi Hartmann in New York Sun

BACILLI IN BLOOD.

Recent experiments as read before the last Congress of Surgeons at Berlin, leave no doubt that the true way to CLEAR THE SYSTEM OF MICROBI is through the pores of the skin. It has been found that a remedy which kills the Microbi will also destroy the life of the patient; but it has also been found that the Microbi can be forced out through the skin, and it is in this way that S.S.S. relieves the system of poison.
